Students:

Read your student email daily, if you have internet access.

Have a daily routine – wake up at a certain time, allow time for sleep, exercise, reading, learning, family, recreation, etc. and go to bed at the same time nightly. This structure helps you to be healthy and successful.

Read books for at least 30 minutes every day. *

Log in to each of your Google classrooms regularly and do recommended or assigned work, if you are able.

Visit our student resources page for links to your favorite learning sites:

Sign up for Khan Academy and follow a learning plan there. If you know your MAP score that can help place you at the correct level to begin.

If you are reading and doing work assigned by your teachers and still have time, visit any of the virtual museums, libraries, learning sites and so much more available online.
