Read books FOR FREE online

There are many places you can read books for free online. In addition to reading by yourself, read to a younger brother, sister, cousin, or neighbor, too.

Students should read books for 30 minutes or more every day. Reading magazines, social media, and cereal boxes is fine but to be successful you should read books for at least 30 minutes every day.

Here are some of my favorite sites for online reading:

Sora – This is an online library available to all GRPS students. Some books are available in Spanish and some with audio. You can also download the Sora app to read on a phone or tabled. <https://soraapp.com/library/grpsmi>

Project Gutenberg – A library of over 60,000 free eBooks. Doesn't get any bigger than this! For example, your parents might remember The Bobbsey Twins or The Wind in the Willows or perhaps you want eat, not read. There are cookbooks of every kind!.

eBookMall – Digital books you can read online. Many are free. Lots of Shakespeare and other classics. Has a teens section but they not free.

eBook Collections in MeL

The eBooks K-8 Collection includes beginner cookbooks, craft books, alphabet books, Diary of a Wimpy Kid series, Big Nate series, and a wide range of students' favorite sports' team, just to name a few. The eBooks High School Collection has Illustrated Classics, Orca series, sports' collections, biographies, history books, STEM books, do-it-yourself projects, and over 1,200 young adult fiction titles. Be sure to explore the eBooks Academic, eBooks Business, and eBooks Public Library collections as well.

PDF Drive – Has a list of categories to search through (easier than EPDF). The Children and Youth section is books ABOUT children, not for them. Has I am Malala.

LibriVox - Free audio books in the public domain

Michigan Open Book Project – These are textbooks which means they have retail values of $50-250 each you can read them here for free!

EPDF Write a book and publish PDF Free Download – this site has lots of academic books like Grays Anatomy (the anatomy book not the TV show), Academic Vocabulary, and books in Spanish. Hard to find what you are looking for and mixed quality.

Storyline online – Super relaxing and fun! Actors read children’s picture books.

How to Geek - Find Free Audio Books

Open Culture - 1000 Audio Books free to download (K-8)

Grand Rapids Public Library - Download books from GR Public library,
